Mis Savings Lost Tailor Tries to End Life With Gas in Hotel Room.

The loss of his savings in the finan-cial disturbances recently led Nicola Clement, a tailor, twenty-six years old, to try to kill himself early to-day.

He came to this country twelve years ago and saved as considerable sum, but some months ago he lost his position. When his money was so tied up that he couldn't get enough to live on he decided to kill himself. He found yesterday that his capital consisted of half a dollar. He went to the Hotel Morgenhoff, One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street and Third avenue, last night. bought a pack of eigarettes and went to a room.

Michael Crawley, who occupied an ad joining room, smelled gas at an early hour and when he called the clerk they found that Clement had stuffed his clothes in the crevices of the windows and the door and had turned on the clipping telling the story of the suicide of Col. De Lacey, and on the margin Clement had written, "Life is a bunk." Dr. Healey, of the Harlem Hospital. revived Clement and at the One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street station he eaid he would "make the job a good one" at the earliest opportunity. He
